

Fall Quarter Bible Classes

AUGUST - SEPTEMBER 2023

Sunday Morning Classes

Auditorium

How many times through the Bible do you find references to people, places, events, or themes that are grounded in the first book of the Bible? Let's agree it's a lot. This class will explore these foundational items in Genesis to help us better understand the rest of God's Word.

Conference Room (102N)

These fathers of faith and literal fathers of Israel have a major impact on the development of God's chosen people. This class will take a deep dive into their stories in Genesis and where their examples show up even into the New Testament. (Class Begins 8/13)

Upstairs - East Wing

Marriage is a lifelong commitment, but it isn't promised to be easy. After a year together, 5 years together, or even 50 years together - are you just as committed to your spouse and the moment you walked down the aisle together? Let's spend time together and encourage one another to remain faithful and committed couples.

Reception Room (103N)

All too often we know what God wants us to do, but how often do we allow our lives to be changed by his Spirit? Are we growing closer to Christ in the Spirit, or simply learning more about Christ? This class will look at the way lives were changed in the early Church and challenge us to assess our commitment to Christ.

Wednesday Evening Classes

Fellowship Hall

We all need growth in our spiritual lives, but where do we begin? Let's explore stories throughout the Bible illustrating how others grew spiritually, and have a conversation together to see how we can benefit from their experiences and prepare for our own.

Conference Room

Who is God? He has told his people many times and in many ways and it is always beneficial to reflect on what He has said about himself.

Teen Room

Building off of the fruit of the Spirit studies we will be asking the question: "How can we be Christians in the Culture - where we can influence and still remain faithful?"

PreK-1st Grade (207N)
2nd - 5th Grade (203N)

When kids see how stories from the Bible fit together, they can understand God's purpose in all of history, from the beginning of the world to the present.
